I have always wanted to work with Software ever since I discovered programming.

I am looking for a Software Developer Internship position at Africa's Talking. I am a passionate functional programmer having learned Clojure, Haskell, and Scala while still in university.

I have no prior experience in working at a Software Company such as Africa's Talking and would like an opportunity to learn and work with some of the best Software Developers and Engineers. I know my lack of experience is a crutch to my application but I hope that my hard work and effort would dissuade any notion of in competencies on my part.

Thank you for your consideration

Sincerely,

Kevin Kamau
